BASE BALL.—A match game of base ball was played yesterday afternoon between the Athens and Roswell ball clubs, which resulted in favor of the Athens.

THE BOLL WORM.—The boll worm has made its appearance in the vicinity of Columbia. A cotton plant shown at the Phoenix office was terribly cut up. The plant contained living specimens of the caterpillar and black worm.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.—The old plank road at the corner of Calhoun and Bullhead streets, which has for some time been an impediment to travel, is now being removed and the bed of the street will be freed from its inequalities.

THE FIRST NEW CAROLINA LONG STAPLE COTTON.—A bag of new Carolina long staple cotton, the first of the season, was received yesterday by Messrs. Fraser & Dill, factors on Adger's Wharves. This bag was from Messrs. Lancaster, Howard & Co., Wadmalaw Island.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Tristram Tupper, a brother of the late Master in Equity, arrived in this city yesterday on a visit to his family. Mr. Tupper has been a resident of New Orleans for some years, and is a member of the firm of Price, Hine & Co., factors and bankers of that city.

TIME COMPUTATIONS.—The new year of the Jewish Era, 5629, commences to-day. This is also the 5688th Masonic year; the 6581st of the Julian period, and the 1868th Anno Domini. It is 2161 years since the foundation of Rome; the 93d year of American Independence, and the 80th since the adoption of the constitution.

ACCIDENTAL DROWNING.—A note received from Cain Hoy states that on the 18th instant a colored man named Jack Williams was accidentally drowned near the village by the capsizing of his boat. Efforts were made to save him and to recover the body, but without success. Williams was about 40 years of age.

SALE OF CURA MOLASSES.—The cargo of molasses per brig Solo from Matanzas was offered yesterday at public sale by Mr. F. P. Salas, and partly disposed of. The following were sold: Sixty twenty hds. Cuba clayed molasses at 42c; per gallon; sixty hds. Muscovado, do. at 51c; twenty-one barrels Muscovado at 51c.

A STATE BASE BALL ASSOCIATION.—It is proposed to form a State Association of Base Ballists, to be composed of delegates from the different clubs now in existence throughout the State. If the secretaries of these clubs will communicate with Mr. U. N. Winner, of this city, the object in view will be more speedily attained.

THE EULAL BAND.—This fine band, which was attached to the 25th South Carolina Volunteers—the Eulal Band—during the war, has recently returned to the city, after a tour through a portion of the State where their well-known notes sounded the Democratic rally. Their rest will be but of short duration, as their services are engaged during the remainder of the campaign.

HIGH TIDES.—The tides of the past few days have been extremely high, and the low and exposed portions of the city bordering on either river have been submerged. The causeway leading to the Savannah and Charleston Railroad and Messrs. Olney & Co.'s lime works have been completely under water, and for a time the travel to and from those points was impeded.

PAINTFUL ACCIDENT.—In Columbia, at a late hour on Monday night, as two young men, Charles Badolico and William Dowers, were skylarking, a pistol in the pocket of one of the party fell on the floor and exploded, the ball grazing the heel of Badolico and burying itself in the calf of Dowers' leg. The ball was extracted yesterday morning by Dr. B. W. Taylor. The wound, although painful, is not serious.

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE.—The workman yesterday played the finishing touches on this office, and it is now an ornament to the building and in keeping with the exterior. The dingy white paint has given place to more pleasing tints; the doors and windows have been also touched up and improved. The office on the street has been refurnished, and will be kept as a private office for the sheriff. While the main business will be conducted in the office in the rear as heretofore.

NEW RICE RICE.—The first receipt of new Carolina rice reached this city on Tuesday from the Middleton place, on Ashley River, consigned to Messrs. H. Bischoff & Co., consisting of a lot of two hundred bushels, which was immediately pounded, and shipped to New York per steamer Saragossa. The second lot of new rice came to Messrs. Colven, Hancock & Co., yesterday from Rice Hope plantation, on Cooper River, now planted by Mr. R. H. Draper, and amounted to about nine hundred bushels. It was sent to the mill.

REV. WHITMORE, M. C., EXPOSED.—At the recent Democratic gathering at Florence, a letter was read by Captain Gilbert, from the editor of the Boston Courier, which stated that during the war the Rev. B. F. Whitmore, while in service, appropriated the sum of $5000. The peculation was discovered, traced to him, and acknowledged in a letter, which was kept and can be produced as a proof of guilt. Enough has been elicited during his legislative career to show that the Rev. carpet-bagger and M. C. is but a wolf in sheep's clothing.

ARREST OF CATTLE THIEVES.—Magistrate McCants, of Goose Creek, Berkeley District, has arrested Reuben Thompson and Cicero Gibbs, two colored men, charged with stealing the cattle mentioned in yesterday's News. These men have been noted in that section for their depredations, and for over six months have been preying on the neighborhood. They were brought to the city yesterday, and turned over to Lieutenant Hendricks for examination.

THE CHARLESTON SCHOOL AND HOME.—The following is the report of the Board of Trustees of the Charleston School and Home, received from the "Baltimore Pioneer Southern Educational Aid Society," for the month of August, 1868:

The Board report that the months of August and September have been given as a vacation to the Home and School. The only expense for August, for which they ask your aid, is the sum of $50 for the vacation and assistant at the Home, and $30 for the janitor of the school—total $80. We are compelled to keep these officials to preserve the property and to prepare for the opening exercises in October. Respectfully submitted by the Board.

JOHN H. HANCKEL, Secretary and Treasurer.

DEMOCRATIC WARD MEETINGS.—The different Democratic Ward Clubs, with the exception of Ward 1, held their weekly meetings last night. The usual routine business was transacted, and addresses were delivered on the political topics of the day, as follows: Ward 2, by M. P. O'Connor, Esq. Ward 3, by L. W. Spratt, Esq. Ward 5, by Hon. James B. Campbell, Esq. Ward 6, by R. W. Seymour and T. B. King, Esqs. At Ward 5 a beautiful illumination of gas jets was arranged over the main entrance to the hall, the shades on which were inscribed "5th Ward Democracy." The whole was in the shape of an arch, each globe bearing a letter. The illumination was designed by Messrs. J. H. Devereux and R. Arnold, and could be seen at a long distance. Each meeting was well attended, and the speakers listened attentively.

Mrs. R. F. W. ALLSTON.—An announcement of interest and importance to the young ladies of Charleston, and indeed of the whole State, appears in our columns this morning. The select boarding and day school of Mrs. R. F. W. Allston will be reopened on the 15th of next month. This institution, established since the war by one of the first ladies of the State, has met with deserved success. It affords every facility for obtaining a knowledge of the higher branches of education and those ladies contemplating deemed necessary to young ladies entering society. But what is of more value, it enables the pupil to acquire that refinement of thought and feeling, and those graces of deportment, which can only be imparted by a true lady. With such advantages, it is no wonder that this school has already taken its place in the front rank of our Southern female institutions.

SADDLERY, HARDWARE AND CARRIAGE FURNITURE.—Messrs. Jennings, Thomlinson & Co. have prepared for the fall trade with an unusually well selected stock of goods in their line, all from the best manufacturers, which they are now offering for sale at their well known stand, No. 159 Meeting-street. They also have on hand a large stock of second-hand army saddles, as good as new. Every man who served in the Confederate cavalry knows the value of a McClellan saddle, and will not fail to keep himself supplied with such a useful luxury if he can afford it. In addition to the articles already mentioned, they offer for sale wool skins and imported bays for rice mills.

The firm of Jennings, Thomlinson & Co. is composed of enterprising and liberal merchants, thoroughly acquainted with the wants of the Charleston trade, and purchasers will do well to avail themselves of their experience and judgment.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN ST. PAUL'S PARISH.—A Democratic meeting was held at St. Paul's Church, in St. Paul's Parish, on Saturday, the 13th instant. The meeting was called to order, and M. E. Hutchinson was appointed to take the chair. A committee was appointed to nominate officers, and reported the following: For President, Col. Thomas Limehouse; Vice Presidents, Captain Tennant, Philip Hutson and Thos. Peoples; Secretary, Philip Messervy, and they were unanimously elected. The Democratic platform was adopted, and the nomination of Seymour and Blair endorsed.

The speaking commenced with an appropriate address by M. E. Hutchinson, Esq., followed by Hon. F. D. Richardson, who occupied the stand for nearly two hours. Speeches were also made by B. J. Limehouse and Thos. P. Lockwood, Esq. The meeting then adjourned to dinner.

After dinner William Bailey, (colored), came forward and asked to be allowed to speak. He was conducted to the stand by the president, and was greeted with three hearty cheers. He spoke in favor of the South, claimed to be a Democrat, and urged his colored friends to stand by the platform and cast their votes with him.

After an address by the president, the meeting adjourned with nine cheers for Seymour and Blair.

THE HEALTH OF CHARLESTON.—The summing up of the bill of mortality for last week—only one death among the whites and twenty among the blacks—affords two subjects for serious reflection—first, the extraordinary health of the city at this season of the year; second, the remarkable contrast between the mortality of the whites and negroes. In regard to the health of the city, Charleston is always healthy except when visited by epidemics, and there is, with that exception, of course, but little difference between the average mortality in winter and summer. From epidemics we have been entirely free since the close of the war, unless the small pox in 1865 and 1866 was entitled to be so-called. We have been free from yellow fever as easily accounted for by the strict quarantine which has been maintained, and the absence of trade with yellow fever ports. As to whether that is the true way of accounting for it, doctors differ. The large mortality among the colored population as compared with that among the whites, will astonish no one who has seen the singular and filthy in which the majority of the negroes of this city live, to say nothing of their addition to midnight cruelties of every kind. They live in the worst houses and in the most unhealthy localities in the city. Unaccustomed to take care of themselves, they are satisfied to live from hand to mouth, often spending in a day the better part of the earnings of a week, or even of a month, and nearly starving themselves until the next day. Of course there are many creditable exceptions to this account, but it is correct as regards the large body of the negroes, and especially of those who have drifted to the city from the plantations of the low country. Want of cleanliness, the lack of proper nutrition, and the absence of skilled medical attendance, doubtless render many cases among the colored people fatal, which, but for these causes, might have a more favorable termination. The wreck of the prosperity of the white people has of course enhanced, in a great degree, the misfortunes of the blacks. From the very nature of the negro, however, these causes must continue to work with more or less fatality, no matter what may be the condition of the whites; and although in slavery the negroes increased rapidly, in freedom they will gradually disappear.

CONGONG'S SYSTEM OF PENMANSHIP.—We are indebted to Holmes' Book House for eight numbers of this series. The copies are carefully graduated, the pupil being conducted from the elementary strokes to the most elaborate achievement of penmanship. He will here find everything in the way of help and suggestion, needful for the attainment of a distinct and beautiful chirography—shaded lines, oblique and perpendicular, striking upon the usual parallels, and thus guiding him in the formation, sloping and spacing of the letters—copies for practice, perfect in proportion and execution—analyses of the first principles and structure of letters—commercial forms—forms for ladies—ornamental texts—German, old English, Roman and non-descript, and shapely flourishes in great variety. Instructions are given to teachers and pupils in regard to the use of the books, the position in writing, the grasp of the pen, and the movements by which the letters are to be executed. In this system the long letters are more deeply shaded than the rest; the small o's and s's are similarly distinguished—a peculiarity which seems to be a mere conceit until one observes how it breaks the monotony of the writing, which would otherwise tire with its delicate strokes and consummate finish. Congdon's penmanship needs only to be examined in order to win its way to general favor and use.
